3rd European Midwest Micro/Macro Conference (EM<sup>3</sup>C) Call for Papers

On September 25-26, 2020, the 3rd European Midwest Micro/Macro Conference (EM<sup>3</sup>C) will take place in Stockholm. The conference will focus on the role of microdata for macroeconomics. Microdata for the purposes of EM<sup>3</sup>C is broadly defined and includes (but is not limited to) survey data, administrative data, experimental data, expectations data, etc. Work with new, previously unexplored microdata is especially welcome. The macro part of EM<sup>3</sup>C is also broadly defined and includes growth and business cycle topics, fiscal and monetary policy, consumption, investment, labour topics, price setting, sentiment and uncertainty research, etc. The dinner speech will be delivered by Per Krusell (IIES). Participation is confirmed by Gregor Jarosch (Princeton), Alessandra Peter (NYU), Laura Pilossoph (FRBNY), and Ayşegül Şahin (UT Austin).

The conference is sponsored by Institute for International Economic Studies (IIES) at Stockholm University, the Swedish House of Finance (SHoF), and the Federal Reserve Bank of New York (FRBNY) and is hosted at SHoF. EM<sup>3</sup>C is a joint initiative of economists working at the intersection of micro and macro in Europe and the US Midwest. Kyle Herkenhoff (Federal Reserve Bank of New York, IZA) is the lead organizer this year and Marieke Bos (SHoF, Stockholm School of Economics), Kurt Mitman (IIES, Stockholm University, CEPR and IZA), and Federica Romei (Stockholm School of Economics and CEPR) are the local organisers.

The deadline for submission of papers or extended abstracts is 23:59 Pacific time on 30 April 2020. Preference is given to completed papers over abstracts. Submissions must be done electronically using the following email: emmmc2020@gmail.com with just EMMMC in the subject line (there is no need for further text in the body of the email). Authors of submitted papers will be notified before 15 June 2020.

There is no travel funding available, but up to 2 hotel nights (for participants from outside of Europe up to 3 hotel nights) will be covered. Financial support is provided by the European Research Council (ERC), FRBNY, and SHoF.
